Focus

- Ethics is concerned with defining moral action.

- The morality of action explores the attitudes, convictions, beliefs, and values underlying what we do.

Clients

- What view of the human being do consultants hold?
- How do they understand their clients within the framework of that view?
- What responsibility for their own process do they leave with the client?

Consultants

- How do consultants conceive of their function — how do they define therapy or help?
- What responsibility do they take upon themselves?
- What falls within their professional scope — and what does not?
- What expectations do they have of their clients?
