Different Perspectives on the History

1. Group Formats and Forms of Therapy
2. Aspects, Insights and Paradigms
3. Gunthard Weber and Bert Hellinger
4. Constellations Today

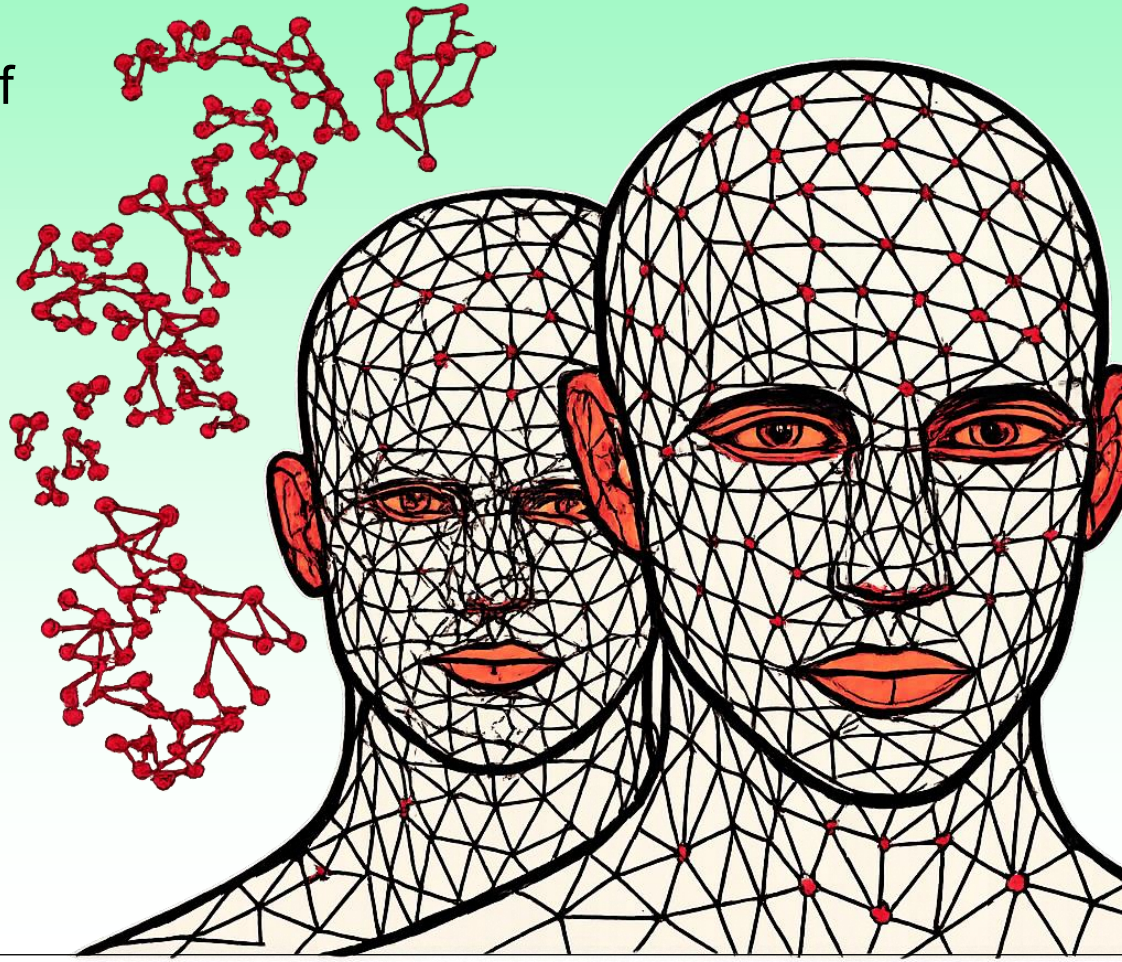

Conscience is a social organ

- It regulates our sense of belonging within a particular system.
- It therefore has a cultural dimension.

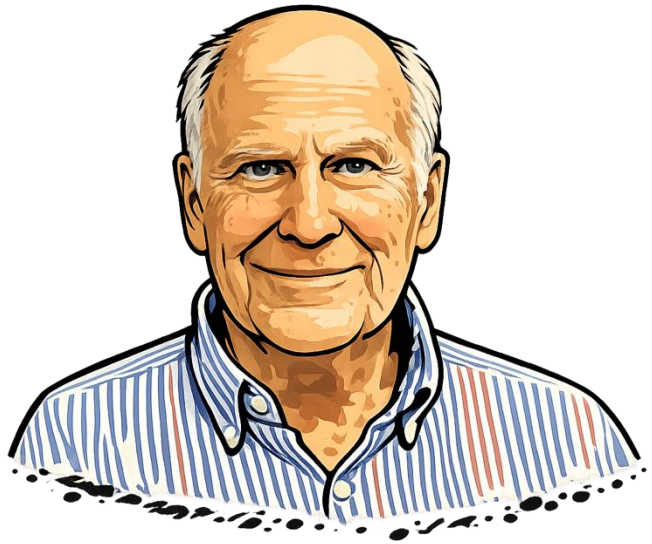

Morphic Fields

- Imagine a field in which every conceivable piece of information is stored.
- This is how Rupert Sheldrake describes his theory of morphic fields.
- His thinking is connected with the Vedic philosophy of India, which also spoke of a field of knowledge.

Systemic Therapy 2

In the early 1990s, Weber attended Bert Hellinger's workshops and was deeply impressed.

Hellinger had developed his own systemic therapy with a phenomenological form of family constellations.

Global Harmonisation

CONSTELLATORS INTERNATIONAL was founded in 2019.

An international team of experienced constellation practitioners developed the foundations for international recognition of practitioners and trainers, taking account of different approaches, schools and fields of application.
