Polarity

All life is polar

From the moment it begins, life unfolds within the tension between polarities.

They reflect a fundamental truth: life is never static

All life emerges from the dynamic balance and interplay between two poles.

Daoism

- Daoism emphasises the unity of the poles.

Everything arises from one consciousness.

Light serves as an example for the one thing that contains everything.

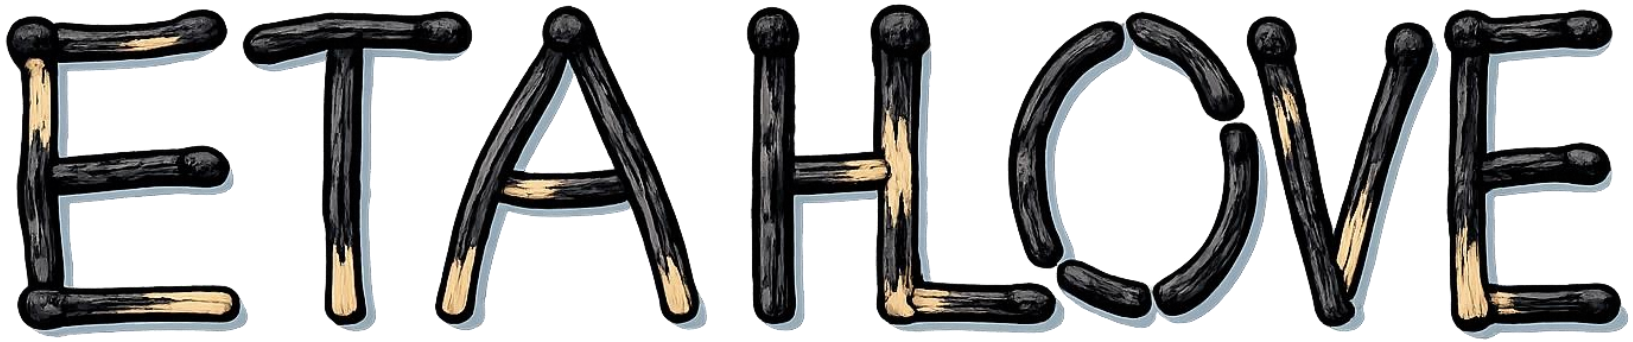

Everything is contained in everything.

FELD INSTITUT

We want to decide

- Either–or: we want to decide. Love or hate.

The Latin word decidere, the origin of decide*,* means to cut off*.*

We want to cut love off love from hate.

Paradise is polar

- Our longing for a life of heavenly abundance

  has destroyed the paradise

  we have here on Earth.

Paradise is ▶ abundance and restraint.

Good is better than evil. We are good.
